COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course provides an in-depth analysis of the fundamental elements of agricultural and food marketing. It will focus on the agricultural industry structure and the economics principles related to consumers and agricultural food producers. It will also cover an overview of marketing strategies and will serve to familiarize students with the asset market derivatives commonly used by agricultural producers and the recent technologies used in agricultural food marketing.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this class, students will be able to:

1. Master the terminology used in agricultural and food marketing
2. Understand the agricultural industry structure and the economic activities of agricultural producers
3. Learn the economics behind the consumer decision-making process
4. Apply their knowledge to estimate demand and supply functions using real data
5. Describe the basic economics principles behind hedging and speculation strategies used by agricultural producers
6. Know the recent technological advancements used in agricultural and food marketing

TEXTBOOKS

NOTE: There is NO required textbook for this class. For reference purposes, the material covered will come from the following textbooks as well as relevant research articles. Some topics covered in class may not appear in the textbooks and vice versa. Therefore, it is essential to pay attention in class and write good notes for success in this course. You can supplement your knowledge of the material covered in class by reading some of the chapters from those books, as suggested in the course schedule, in addition to the lecture notes.

Norwood, F. B. and Lusk, J. L. Agricultural Marketing and Price Analysis, 1st Edition, Prentice Hall, 2008.

Peter, J. P. and Donnelly, J. H., Jr. A Preface to Marketing Management, 14th Edition, McGraw-Hill Irwin, 2014.

Ramsay, T. Z. Introduction to Neuromarketing and Consumer Neuroscience, 1st Edition, Neurons Inc, 2015.

COURSE WEBSITE AND CORRESPONDENCE

UF Canvas is the official class website. This is where you will receive all class announcements, so you should check here regularly. I will also be sending announcements through email so you should check your email regularly. Missing an announcement posted on Canvas or sent by email is not a valid excuse for not following through with class related activities. Lecture videos and some other required materials will also be uploaded on UF Canvas.

GRADING POLICIES

Final Score:

Your final grade will be calculated based on the following weights:

Assignments	20%
Exam 1	30%
Exam 2	30%
Project	20%

The letter grade will be determined using the following grading scale

Points	Letter Grade
92%	A
89%	A ⁻
86%	B ⁺
82%	B
79%	B ⁻
76%	C ⁺
72%	C
69%	C ⁻
66%	D ⁺
62%	D
59%	D ⁻
Below 59%	E

NOTE: All grades calculated based on the above criteria are final and non-negotiable.

Assignments:

There will be a total of 4 homework assignments, each worth 5% of the final course grade. Assignments will be announced in class and you will be given around 1 week to work on each assignment. The purpose of those assignments is help you evaluate your understanding of the course material and to prepare you for the exams. The due dates will be discussed clearly in class and communicated over email and/or announcements. Since students are given plenty of time to work on the assignments, there will be no partial credit for late submissions. Any assignment submitted past the due date will receive an automatic grade of zero.

Exams:

There will be 2 required exams, each covering one half of the course material. They will consist of multiple choice, short answer questions, and case study (problem-based) questions. They will test the student's understanding of the material covered in class and will require students to think critically and analytically about various scenarios related to food marketing.

Project:

Students will be required to complete an experiential learning project. The project will require them to visit one of the players in the food value-added chain (i.e., input supplier, producer, manufacturer, processor, assembler, wholesaler, or retailer). While on their visit, students will ask questions and learn about the operation and activities of their respective players. They will also take photos to document their visit and write a 2-3 page report about the things they learned as they relate to the material covered in class. More detailed instructions will be provided later.

CAMPUS HELPING RESOURCES

Your well-being is important to the University of Florida. The U Matter, We Care initiative is committed to creating a culture of care on our campus by encouraging members of our community to look out for one another and to reach out for help if a member of our community is in need. If you or a friend is in distress, please contact umatter@ufl.edu so that the U Matter, We Care Team can reach out to the student in distress. A nighttime and weekend crisis counselor is available by phone at 352-392-1575. The U Matter, We Care Team can help connect students to the many other helping resources available including, but not limited to, Victim Advocates, Housing staff, and the Counseling and Wellness Center. Please remember that asking for help is a sign of strength. In case of emergency, call 9-1-1.

Several resources are available on campus for students, especially if academic performance is at stake. In general, the Dean of Students Office provides a hub for these services: Location: P202 Peabody Hall Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu>) Telephone: 392-1261

Students with disabilities are encouraged contact the Disability Resource Center and coordinate the needed accommodations. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. Please contact this office at 0001 Reid Hall, 392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/.

Students experiencing crises or personal problems that interfere with their general well-being are encouraged to utilize the university's counseling resources at the following link (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/supportservices/campuscounseling.php>). Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance. These resources include:

- Counseling and Wellness Center (<http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/>) Location: 3190 Radio Road Telephone: 392-1575
- Student Health Care Center (<http://shcc.ufl.edu/>) Location: SHCC Infirmary Building Telephone: 391-1161
- Career Resource Center (<http://www.crc.ufl.edu>) Location: 1st Floor (CR-100), Reitz Union CR-100 Telephone: 392-1602

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Academic Honesty (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/conductcode.php>). The academic community at UF prides itself on intellectual growth as well as stimulating and encouraging moral development. This is accomplished through nurturing and maintaining an environment of honesty, trust and respect. The responsibility to maintain this environment falls with student as well as faculty members.

Students who enroll at UF commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. Thus, on all work submitted for credit, the following pledge is implied: "On our honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." Moreover, any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action.

Violations of the Academic Honesty Guidelines shall result in judicial action and a student being subject to the sanctions in paragraph XIV of the Student Conduct Code. For example, conduct such as cheating and plagiarizing constitutes a violation of the Academic Honesty Guidelines (University of Florida Rule 6C1-4.017), which will be vigorously upheld at all times in this course.

Student Responsibility: Students should report any condition that facilitates dishonesty to the instructor, department chair, college dean or Student Honor Court.

Faculty Responsibility: Faculty members have a duty to promote honest behavior and to avoid practices and environments that foster cheating in their classes. Teachers should encourage students to bring negative conditions or incidents of dishonesty to their attention. In their own work, teachers should practice the same high standards they expect from their students.

Administration Responsibility: As highly visible members of our academic community, administrators should be ever vigilant to promote academic honesty and conduct their lives in an ethically exemplary manner. (Source: 2016-2017 UF Undergraduate Catalog).

On-Line Students Complaints: <http://www.distance.ufl.edu/student-complaintprocess>

Online Course Evaluation Process: Student assessment of instruction is an important part of efforts to improve teaching and learning. At the end of the semester, students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course using a standard set of university and college criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open for students to complete during the last two or three weeks of the semester; students will be notified of the specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>.
