COURSE WORK:

Futures Project: The purpose of this individual project is to give each of you some experience with trading agricultural commodity futures contracts. For this assignment, we will be using a simulated commodity trading game in which each student is “given” $100,000. The objective is for you to purchase future contracts (i.e., “open market positions”) and then offset these contracts (i.e., “close market positions”) and try to “profit” from your trades. Refer to the handout for more specific details.

Experiential Learning Project: The purpose of this individual project is to give each of you the experience of visiting and learning more about a player in the marketing channel. For this assignment, you will visit an input supplier, producer, assembler, processor, manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer. While visiting one of the previous mentioned players, you will ask several question and take pictures to document your visit. Refer to the assignment handout for more specific details.

Discussions: Discussions are broken into two categories: opinion and data-based. Thoughtful contribution to class discussion is essential for successful completion of the course. It is only through contribution that you show command of the issues addressed in class discussions. For a student to receive full credit for each discussion, the student must communicate with other students within the discussion. Grading for this participation will be based on assessment of your contribution to the learning process.

Opinion: The purpose of the opinions is to give each of you some experience with relating your own experiences to the food marketing channel. The opinion discussions are open to the entire class and you have the option to “like” other student’s posts. Part of completing an opinion discussion is grading another student’s post; this is called peer assessment. If you fail to make your peer assessment, you will not receive your grade for the given discussion. The lowest score will be dropped.

Data-Based: The purpose of the projects is to give each of you some experience with the food marketing channel and so that you begin thinking as a marketing decision maker, as well as locating data. For the data-based discussions, you will be in a smaller group and the discussion are not open to the entire class. You will not have to make a peer assessment for the data-based discussions. The lowest score will be dropped.

Quizzes: There will be many quizzes during the semester. The lowest score will be dropped.

MAKE UP WORK WILL NOT BE ALLOWED IF I AM NOTIFIED OF A CONFLICT AT THE END OF A MODULE OR AFTER IT HAS CLOSED.

Academic Honesty:

Academic Honesty (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/conductcode.php>). The academic community at UF prides itself on intellectual growth as well as stimulating and encouraging moral development. This is accomplished through nurturing and maintaining an environment of honesty, trust and respect. The responsibility to maintain this environment falls with student as well as faculty members.

Students who enroll at UF commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity. Thus, on all work submitted for credit, the following pledge is implied: "On our honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." Moreover, any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action.

Violations of the Academic Honesty Guidelines shall result in judicial action and a student being subject to the sanctions in paragraph XIV of the Student Conduct Code. For example, conduct such as cheating and plagiarizing constitutes a violation of the Academic Honesty Guidelines (University of Florida Rule 6C1-4.017), which will be vigorously upheld at all times in this course.

Student Responsibility: Students should report any condition that facilitates dishonesty to the instructor, department chair, college dean or Student Honor Court.

Faculty Responsibility: Faculty members have a duty to promote honest behavior and to avoid practices and environments that foster cheating in their classes. Teachers should encourage students to bring negative conditions or incidents of dishonesty to their attention. In their own work, teachers should practice the same high standards they expect from their students.

Administration Responsibility: As highly visible members of our academic community, administrators should be ever vigilant to promote academic honesty and conduct their lives in an ethically exemplary manner. (Source: 2012-2013 UF Undergraduate Catalog).
